

2015 D100 Info

Weather:

Looks like the skies are clearing this afternoon, and the weather will be warmer on Sunday. The roads are already dry. Temperature at the 9 am start in Durango will be around 45-50 degrees. Farmington will be around 65 degrees in the afternoon, and Durango is supposed to be around 60 in the afternoon. Winds are forecasted to be light in the morning, but pick up to 10-15 MPH around 1. Good news is it should be a tailwind for the last 20 miles.

Clothing Suggestions:

The competitive riders knee and warm warmers at a minimum, with a wind vest and possibly toe booties.

The Touring riders who are enjoying the scenery, Lightweight tights, thermal jersey and wind vest or jacket will keep you comfortable all day. If your toes get cold easily, some wool thin socks and toe covers/booties might be good.
