THE BANDYWEG

Sadistically situated at the end of a sandy single track trail, The Bandyweg must be commenced by riders from a standstill—after dismounting, rubbing cramping legs and looking around to see if a sag wagon is nearby. For those with the compulsion to pedal forth toward the peak at 94 miles, this steep ascent has the potential to destroy what little resolve remains and induce doubt that the rider will ever make it to the Muur van Dubbelberg, which is separated from Bandyweg by 31 miles of sand, dirt, water, headwinds and hills.

THE BANDYWEG, IT MAY NOT BE LONG,
BUT IT'S EFFECTIVE.
